To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter to thank your company, The Russell Gage Corporation, for the job well done on finishing our new boutique office space. The high degree of craftsmanship by each of the contractors on the finishing touches made our space exceptional. In just a few short weeks word of our great new space has spread like wildfire throughout DC. Just last week we had a photo shoot with the Washingtonian magazine.

My company has relocated 9 offices in the last 2 years in many different markets throughout the US. I can confidently say that the project you managed at 406 7th St was the most complicated, required the most skill, and had one of the tightest deadlines. Both Miguel and Damon were amazing to deal with and at no time did I ever feel left in the dark. Without their professional guidance on this project my company would not be where we are today.

I hope this continues to be a great relationship and future success. I look forward to the next project we get to work together on.

Sincerely,

Derek Stewart
